Miraposa is a sweet alpaca. Just now being halter trained and leaving home for the first time. She will start her show career at the Palmetto Alpaca Classic in April as she is just not ready for the one here in Florida. Underneath that cria coat she is a lovely true black, dense for a cria coat and nice crimp coming in.

Her sire, Royal Peruvian Challenger a dark rose grey, took a Blue Ribbon at the 1999 AOBA National halter show in a class of 23. We choose him to stand stud at our farm due his wonderful fleece, proud bearing and exceptional conformation. All 5 of his crias born here have nice heavy bone, lovely fleece and agreeable dispositions!

We have three wonderful herdsires that a breeding from would compliment her fleece when she is ready to be bred. Crockett our rose grey Peruvian multi-Champion male; Grey Cloud, medium rose grey, half Accoyo with two Blue Ribbons and a reserve championship in fleece. Perhaps Sir Titus a light rose grey, with three Blue Ribbons to date, son of My Peruvian Ferrari and our best female Manzana. You choose!

We have a cabin available if you would like to come and get to know Mariposa her dam, Maya, and the other girls & boys.

Our farm is located two hours from Atlanta, two hours from Knoxville too. Two hours from Chattanooga, out where the skies are blue. Two hours from Knoxville if you are traveling by car, far enough from the city lights so you can see the stars.
